Rottweil Magnum

Due to the highest possible shot load, the Rottweil Magnum 12/76 shotshell is designed for very special requirements of small game hunting.

The magnum cartridge may only be used in shotguns with 76 mm (3") chambers.

Rottweil Magnum at a glance:

- Lead shotgun shells for small game
- Available in 12/76 and 20/76 gauge
- Use only in shotguns with 76 mm long chambers
- Good coverage even at long ranges
- Versions with a 56g load

Shotgun shell construction of Rottweil Magnum

1. The black PE plastic case is highly resistant to moisture
2. Excellent patterning even at longer range due to highest possible lead shot load
3. Dense shot pattern even at long range due to a sturdy cup wad
4. Powerful and uniform development of the increase in gas pressure due to the special magnum powder
5. Protection of the barrel due to non-corrosive SINOXID® ignition
6. Extra high quality 20 mm brass head
